Cathy Curran Myers
Deputy Secretary for Water Management
PA Department of Environmental Protection

Cathy Curran Myers is Deputy Secretary for Water Management in the Department of Environmental Protection where she is responsible for statewide water resources and policy. She leads strategic and policy initiatives for statewide water supply, water quality management, waterways engineering, and water planning, as well as policy and programmatic issues of department and statewide significance.

Prior to joining DEP, she was managing partner of Obermayer Rebmann Maxwell & Hippel LLP's office in Harrisburg where she worked to establish a diverse environmental and administrative law practice before federal and state tribunals and administrative agencies.

From 1980 to 1991, she worked in the Bureau of Regulatory Counsel for DEP's precursor, the Department of Environmental Resources where she served as director and her staff provided counseling and legal services for all environmental regulatory programs administered by the department. From 1991 to 1992, she represented business and municipal clients in environmental and administrative law matters for the firm of Dilworth, Paxson, Kalish & Kauffman.

She received her bachelor's degree in environmental economics and her master's degree in biological science from Smith College in Northampton, Massachusetts. She also received her juris doctorate from Dickinson School of Law in Carlisle, Pennsylvania.
